Dear Sir,

Regarding your order dated 9th April 1912 No. G.5361-GM 128/11/42 for tents, we beg to advise you that the nearest and cheapest railway route to Bangalore has been closed for a fortnight, but the railway people are willing to accept the goods if we agree to send them over a longer route costing in freight about Rs115/- more. We did not wish to put you to this extra expense, and have been holding off from day to day, but now there seems no signs of the shorter line opening. If you are in no immediate need of the tents, no harm is occasioned, but if you are requiring them, will you please wire us to despatch by the more costly route.
